Interview with Andrea Bowman, 2010 President of the Northeast Georgia Board of Realtors.

How long have you been a real estate professional? I have been a licensed Real Estate Agent for more than ten years and have a background in business administration.

What advice would you give someone looking to become a real estate professional? Being a Realtor® has been a very rewarding career for me, helping my clients and families achieve their dream of home ownership and investing in their future has created many lifelong friendships and bonds. If you're dedicated and willing to work hard, sometimes with long hours, you can have a wonderful career in Real Estate.

Are your customers today coming from the same areas as in previous years? We still see a high number of our Customers coming from the Southeastern Region of the United States, but I believe we will start to see more and more International visitors and Investors, with opportunities for investment and home ownership in the U. S.

What indications do you have regarding the local real estate market? Have we hit bottom? Are we on our way back up? Overall the Real Estate Market remains sluggish. The good news is that we have seen a National rise in home sales over the last few months and a significant increase over this time last year. The National median price declined an average of 3 % from May to June but this is mostly due to Foreclosures. We still have a large volume of foreclosed properties and according to our MLS statistics in the 6 County area that we cover, over 30% of our sales volume has been in foreclosed properties over the last few months. I believe that we will continue to see many more foreclosed and distressed property sales and that this will continue for at least the next 12 to 18 months.

Do you think the local real estate market will ever recover to the point that it was in 2006 & 2007? There is a light at the end of our tunnel, as we start to see more investors taking advantage of the great opportunities that are out there. Land sales have seen an improvement, and homes that are priced to sell are doing just that.

What percentage of your clientele is looking for foreclosures? I rarely work with a customer anymore that doesn't at least inquire about foreclosures, what's out there, and are there any good deals.

What are your clients looking for? Primary Residence, Second Home, Investment Property? Our area remains well known as a haven for retirees, exclusive getaways and seasonal retreats. Our Clientele still seek second homes, vacation rentals and investment opportunities.

Do today's buyers have more difficulty with financing approval than in previous years? As lending regulations tighten and new laws are implemented, the loan process has become more difficult, but buyers with a good credit history and available down payment funds are still able to obtain loans.

What can sellers do to compete with foreclosures? The competition with foreclosures is the most difficult Challenge for today's Sellers, and its all about pricing. Sellers need to be sure that they find a Realtor® experienced with property evaluation to help them with pricing, a property overpriced will remain on the market indefinitely. A Realtor® will work with you to help you through the process of getting your property SOLD.

Does staging a home help it sell in this market? There are many things a Seller can do to improve their chances for a sale, and again their Realtor® can help them achieve this goal. Staging is an excellent example of making a home "sellable", it takes an experienced agent to show you how to stage your home for optimum results.

What is the most common misconception for buyers purchasing a foreclosed home? The most common misconception that buyers purchasing foreclosed properties have is probably the length of time it may take for a sale to come to fruition, it is not always a simple process.

Are there any advantages to purchasing a home that is not in financial distress versus a home in foreclosure? Distressed properties are not always the best deal out there, they rarely come with any disclosures or prior history information, and they are often damaged or have had permanent attachments removed from the property. Buyers should always have a property inspected by a licensed home inspector.

Dr. Church named Rotary Citizen of Year

Local Rotarians appreciating a family musical performance from Dr. Church & his children. Event: Pages in the Park, a Rotary event to raise awareness & funding for the Ferst Foundation for Childhood Literacy.

Good works -- humanitarian service to the community -- can often go unnoticed especially if done with the modest & quiet heart of sincere giving. While this essential care is the foundation upon which any community depends, it is often overshadowed by the highlighting of less admirable behavior around us. Human nature seems to gravitate toward catching others doing "bad" behaviors, vs. catching others doing good.

In the spirit catching others "doing good" in our community, the Lake Chatuge Rotary Club honors local citizens who have exemplified Rotary's motto... "Service Above Self."

Each year, the local service club awards their "Citizen of the Year" award to 2 citizens, one in Towns & one in Clay County. We honor these recipient's gracious gifts of service to our community.

This week, Lake Chatuge Rotary would like to acknowledge its Towns County recipient of the Citizen of the Year Award... Dr. Samuel Le Church. Dr. Church's volunteer efforts are quite varied & multifaceted, from providing free sports physicals for Towns County Schools to being a volunteer firefighter... from volunteering his time for the children's choir at McConnell Baptist Church to actively raising money each year for Relay for Life.

Here is a list of some of the other contributions that Dr. Church has made to our community: Medical director - Enotah Child Advocacy Center (A multidisciplinary team in Towns/Union for child abuse Intervention). Established a pilot site for telemedicine collaboration with Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, Child Protection Center, Member of Towns/Union Sexual Assault Response Team, Towns County Drug Free Coalition Board of Directors, Soccer coach for regional recreation teams Wrestling Coach, Towns County Youth Wrestling, TC Middle School, and TC High School Football/Wrestling Team Doctor Volunteer Doctor, GA, Baptist Mobile Medical and Dental Clinic.

While it was common knowledge that Dr. Church graciously gave of his time in the community, it was somewhat more of a challenge to gather the above list for publication... which came from other sources (Dr. Church's multifaceted contributions are matched only by his reticence to self promote...and his knack for flying beneath the radar). In responding to Rotary's honoring him with Citizen of the Year Award, Dr. Church responded, "...Nancy and I are involved in many things and have made a commitment to our community in many areas. We have established that in our family, serving others is a big part of what we do. Our fulfillment has already come from the lives and activities we have been able to participate in. ...I am appreciative of Rotary's efforts to foster and promote the ideal of "Service Above Self." If this recognition will serve as a catalyst and inspiration for others to give of themselves, then I am proud to serve in that capacity..."

The Lake Chatuge Rotary Club honors Dr. Church for his service to our community. He has made an outstanding contribution to making our small little corner of the world an even better place to live.
