

Fair Queen...from Page 1A

2018 Miss Georgia Mountain Fair Contestants, L-R: Madison Crisler, Cydnee Thoreson, Kirsten Ledford, Katie Walsh and Brianna Ross.
Photo by Mark Smith

Brianna Ross dancing a self-choreographed number for the talent portion of the show.
Photo by Mark Smith

Cydnee Thoreson performing sign language to a song in the Talent Award competition of the Miss Georgia Mountain Fair Pageant.
Photo by Mark Smith

Miss GMF Pageant Emcee Jennifer Holloway onstage with the adorable Chesney Tankersley on July 23.
Photo by Lowell Nicholson

Emma Kate Ledford, another graduate of Towns County High and the 2017 Miss Georgia Mountain Fair First Runner-Up, attended this year's pageant to pass the crown to Walsh that evening, amid much cheering and whistling from the crowd.
Phyllis Johnson, Kaylyn

Gragg and Melissa Herndon were the judges for the 2018 Miss GMF Pageant. Gragg, now happily married with two children, is a past winner of the competition, having earned the title of 2008 Miss Georgia Mountain Fair.
Miss Georgia Mountain

Fair was awarded $500 and merchandise prizes for her victory, while First Runner-Up received $200 and Second Runner-Up received $100.
The pageant was coordinated by Sonya McClain.