The annual Blue-White football game was about giving a youthful football team some repetition.

"Our kids got a lot of reps," Towns County Head Coach Kyle Langford said. "We've got kids that haven't played with us before. It's an experience that is different for us. It's actually difficult for me when we've got so many more kids."

"When you've got 25 it's not so hard to get everybody in. When you've got 40 or more it's a little harder but it was also a great problem to have," Coach Langford said. "I was really pleased."

Coach Langford was pleased with the effort and the attitudes.

"Execution is what it is in spring," he said. "It's never going to be real good. If it is you probably need to be scared. I was real pleased with it and now the boys have a break coming up and a couple of weeks off."

"We'll get back rolling here in June and start molding a team into one unit," Coach Langford said.

Coach Langford paid tribute to the great crowd in the stands at Frank McClure Stadium.

"I would like to acknowledge the great crowd that showed up for the scrimmage and barbeque," he said. "We had a nice response to the barbeque and the weather cooperated. We took in roughly $700 for the night thanks to the community for all of the support," Coach Langford said.

Coach Langford and his staff are looking to build on a youth movement that will continue for the Towns County Indians football program this fall.

In 2012 the Indians will look to improve on a long 2-8 2011 campaign. The season's highlights came against the North Cobb Christian Eagles and the Hebron Christian Academy Lions.

Against North Cobb, quarterback Jackson Noblet had a nice game torching the Eagles defense through the air and on the ground en route to a 33-6 homecoming win.

Coach Langford struck gold by experimenting line-backer Wesley Bloodworth in the backfield. Bloodworth took some of the workload from a tired backfield, thus opening opportunities for Noblet to connect with senior wide out Zack Stroud.

Due to a nice defensive effort curbing an outstanding Xavier Railey-led ground game, the Indians took out a great measure of frustration and revenge in a 29-27 thriller against the Hebron Lions on their home turf to close the 2011 season. It marked the first time the Indians finished off a football season on a winning note since 1978.

As the summer months approach, Coach Langford will yet again look to rely heavily on youth and in some cases inexperience. Coach Langford and staff were encouraged by Dakota Barrett will keep running even after he graduates on Friday.

"He's not running away from anything, he's headed to Young Harris College with scholarship in hand to compete collegiately in Cross Country for the Mountain Lions."

"I am really proud that Dakota has moved on to the next level to continue his cross country career," Indians' Cross Country Coach Jeanne Ledford said. "He's going to be a true asset to the Young Harris Mountain Lions. We're excited that he's going to be local so that we can still come and watch him run."

Barrett is ready for the next adventure to begin.

"I feel great about being a Mountain Lion at Young Harris College," he said. "Ever since this past Cross Country season, I've been ready to run at the next level. That's been a goal of mine. Now I'm going to get to do it looks like. I'm just ready to go racing."

The Towns County Indians' Spring Sports Program got some good news last week.

"Dillon Diehl, baseball, Stephanie Patton, golf, and Jordan Jacobs, golf, were named Second Team All Region," Towns County High School Principal Roy Perren said.

Diehl was humbled. "I had a rough year this year," he said. "I'm looking to come back next year. I think we'll have a little bit better team. We'll be older and hopefully we'll be good by then. It's a great honor to be named Second Team All Conference," Diehl said.
